Specialized in ornamental shrubs

Roos Nurseries is a young, modern and dynamic company that is specialized in the cultivation of ornamental shrubs, to serve the national and international market with a visually high-quality product.

Over the years, the company has grown to 6 ha greenhouse and 3 ha of outdoor cultivation, divided between the main location in Boskoop and several other locations in the Netherlands and Poland. With more than 30 permanent employees, we ensure that the plants go to the customer in optimal condition every day.

Sustainable future

The substrate recipes we use are supplied by our supplier Klasmann Deilmann. With them, we are making our substrate more and more sustainable by using other raw materials. This is how we gradually reduce the share of peat and replace it with more sustainable alternatives. The purpose of these tests with new substrate mixtures is to make our substrate more sustainable and to reduce the proportion of peat.

Our supplier of the pots and trays is Modiform. Together with Modiform, we are constantly looking for the best possible pot for the crop and the cultivation of the plant. In addition, we always choose trays with an optimal and safe loading of our pots for the most efficient possible transport. All our pots are made from recycled material and can be recycled through household waste. The Pristine® trays are made of 100% recycled polystyrene (PS) without color additives, for a maximum contribution to close the material cycle. We grow various products in concept pots to emphasize the specialty of the plant.

Customers can contact us for both small and large custom orders. The plants can be packed in different ways. On CC containers, in boxes, with trays, with price stickers; there are many possibilities at our company.

In addition to specific customer requests, we also offer our products at several online webshops, including Floriday. Floriday is updated weekly with stock and recent photos, so that you are always aware of our most current offer.

Would you like more information about joining us at Floriday, about certain products or do you have other questions? Our employees are happy to assist you.
